

Eaton Walterscheid WALFORM Machine MEG-WF385X

Electronically controlled reshaping machine guarantees efficient production with consistently high quality.

Product Function

Eaton Walterscheid WALFORM Machine is an electronically controlled cold reshaping machine that handles cold reshaping of hydraulic steel & stainless steel tubes with outside diameters from 6 to 42 mm.

- Tube diameters from 6 - 42 mm
- Wall thickness from 3 - 6 mm
- Fittings pressure range from 250 bar up to 800 bar

WALFORM

The WALFORM cold reshaping machine creates a profile ring in the tube itself resulting in the recognized pressure point felt during in service assembly.

The only possible leakage path is primarily sealed off by the tried-and-tested WALFORMplus captive seal and secondarily by the metallic seal between the patented WALFORMplus shoulder and the fitting body.

Advantages of WALFORMplus fitting system

- Simple and practical assembly process can be carried out by anyone.
- Small number of components reduces material and logistics costs.
- The system guarantees reliable tube retention, even under high dynamic loads.
- Large volume of high quality assemblies can be efficiently produced.
- Unmistakable pressure point clearly indicates the end of the assembly travel, making excessive or insufficient tightening virtually impossible.
